Newmarket—The Newmarket Recreation Commission Tuesday night approved a letter to be sent to the Newmarket town council urging consideration be given to installing artificial ice in the Newmarket arena.

"We would strongly urge that every consideration be given this matter at an early date so that Newmarket will be the first in this area to be able to offer first-class ice for the entire hockey season regardless of the weather," the letter said.

The text of the letter: "The matter of artificial ice for the local arena has been discussed by the Recreation Commission. It is felt that the installation of an artificial ice plant is becoming imperative if Newmarket is to continue its past record in sports."

York County Plowmen Prominent In Competition

York county plowmen again won a large number of prizes at the International Plowing Match held at Kingston last week and while they did not succeed in capturing any of the overseas trips this year, the directors of the association have asked president W. L. Clark, Gormley, to accompany the prize winners to Great Britain early in the year.

George Timbers, Stouffville, son of Fred Timbers, who won International fame in the United States a few years ago and last year won a trip to Britain, was one of the outstanding winners, winning his classes on Wednesday and Thursday, and was a member of the inter-county team plowing on Friday when York county was third. Robert Timbers, Stouffville, won first in his tractor class on Wednesday, sixth on Thursday and third on Friday. In the juvenile section, Norman Watson, Woodbridge, was the outstanding boy in walking plows with second on Wednesday, fourth on Thursday and first on Friday.

In the inter-county competition, York county placed third with the team consisting of Carl Timbers, Aurora, and Harley Timbers, Stouffville. Brant county won this with Grey county in second place. Harley won the open novice class on Wednesday while Carl and Harley won second and third in the jointer class on Friday.

TOWN TO CALL FOR TENDERS ON RINK LEASE

Newmarket—Tenders for the leasing of the Newmarket Memorial arena will be called for as the result of a decision of the Newmarket town council on Monday night.

The subject was brought up by Councillor George M. Byers when he inquired what provisions the property committee was making for the arena. Councillor Caroline Edwards, chairman of the committee, said it was the opinion of the committee that the arena should be leased for the winter if possible, since it was run at a loss last year. Several members of council said that they had received inquiries about the possibility of renting the arena, and it was decided that the calling of tenders was the only equitable means of settling the question.

Town Engineer Denne Bosworth reported that the best way to fix the Legion hall for the winter was to put a supplementary sill under it, and to delay more permanent repairs until spring. Mr. Bosworth said the present sill and most of the joists were rotten. He said the job would cost no more than the required materials, since Legion members were prepared to do the work.

One Completed, Two Homes Abuilding By Vet-Owners

Newmarket—Three industrious veterans have taken their first steps to "build your own home," and have gone ahead and done just that despite the difficulty in getting materials and help.

Archib Goring is now living in his new house on Grace St., and Aubrey Seythes and Frank Burling are both building new houses at the end of the new continuation of Grace St.

They have all taken a contract to build through the Veterans' Land Act plan, and have done much of the work themselves hiring the extra labor they need.

Messrs. Seythes and Burling are building at the end of Grace St. on land that once belonged to the Marsh estate. Seythes' bungalow is white brick with a blue roof, and Burling's is red brick. Both houses are on corners opposite each other.

Mr. Goring built his new house at the top of the hill on the north side of Grace St. He said that after taking the contract, he started buying material

Kids' Costume Party, Dance At Arena For Hallowe'en

Newmarket—Plans for a Hallowe'en party in the Newmarket arena Friday, Oct. 31, for both elementary school children and teenagers were discussed at a meeting of the recreation commission Tuesday night. The party represents a continuation of what has become an annual event in Newmarket.

As last year, the elementary school children are being asked to come in costume, gathering at their schools for preliminary judging of costumes, and then parading to the arena for final judging, "treats" and entertainment. The Newmarket Citizens' band will lead the parade in costume.

It is planned to bring the entertainment for the elementary schools to an end at 10 p.m. with the dance for the teenagers following right after. Don Gilkes and his orchestra will provide the music.

Old Timers Raise Doubt As To Validity Of Elm

Newmarket—"Early in the eighteenth century, under the spreading branches of Timothy St.'s now ancient elm, three to four hundred Indians would gather at a time to barter their furs to Messrs. Roe, Robinson and Borland and oftentimes $50,000 would be the value of these furs. This new market was much more convenient for the Redmen than going to York and thus the naming of our town, Newmarket."

These were the words which appeared under a picture of the historical elm in the souvenir booklet to commemorate the Newmarket Old Boys' Reunion in 1939. They put into words the popular legend which surrounds one of Newmarket's best known and most controversial landmarks, a landmark which will be removed shortly because it is also an expensive luxury and a hazard.

But some of Newmarket's old-timers flatly deny the truth of the legend of the elm tree; others do not say definitely that "it ain't so," but they do admit serious doubt.

Fred Hartly openly scorns the legend. "My mother was born in 1837 and I know she never said anything about a trading post having been under the old tree. There was a Hudson Bay post down near the foot of Main St., where the Red and White store now is, and I can see no reason why there should have been a post there and one under the old tree, too. According to the legend, they drove spikes into the tree and hung the skins on the spikes but you can't find any spike marks on the tree."

Silas Armitage said he could not definitely verify the legend. "In 1800, a good portion of the land around what is now the southern end of Newmarket was just swamp. There was a high piece of land, a knoll around what is now Timothy St., and it had several elm trees on it. Which Elm Tree

Some of the employees rushed over with an extinguisher and had it under control until the firemen arrived and finished the job.

NO IMMEDIATE CHANGE NOTED IN MEAT PRICE

Newmarket—On Tuesday night, the federal government removed price ceilings on all meat and meat products except lard and tallow but the action had no result in any price increases in Newmarket stores by Wednesday noon.

J. E. Pollock, manager of the Dominion Store meat market, said he would probably receive instruction from Toronto within the next few days but was unable to forecast what changes there would be.

Andy Whyte, manager of the Loblaw store here, had not yet received any instructions from Toronto and said that he didn't know what price changes, if any, would take place.

Ken Howard, manager of the Arctic Lockers in Newmarket, said the decontrol would mean a decrease in prices if anything. "We definitely won't increase our prices, unless of course, we are forced to by the wholesalers, and I do not think that will happen." He said the lockers are supplied with meat from independent sources rather than by the large packing concerns.

Howard Brice, Brice's Meat Market, said he thought the prices of both beef and veal would probably rise but that lamb and pork would remain the same. "The livestock prices the packers have been paying to producers have been out of line with that which the packers have been able to charge us. Their prices to us will now naturally go up to bring them back in line," he said.

Mr. Brice said that in his opinion the reason the packers settled the strike disputes was because of an agreement with the government whereby the ceilings would be lifted provided the strikes were settled. "The increases will eventually revert to the customers because meat markets work on a percentage basis," he said.

"The lifting of the ceilings on coarse grains will mean an increase in costs to the farmers, too, and they will demand higher prices," Mr. Brice said.

Jack Reid, who stocks canned meats, said he did not know what effect the decontrol would have on prices for that line.

High School Crowded, Want Action - Board

Newmarket—"Newmarket high school is definitely no longer large enough to provide secondary education for the young generation of our community," the Newmarket high school board said in a letter to the Newmarket town council on Monday night. "Our previous recommendation, made in writing several months ago, to the effect that this board is unanimously in favor of Newmarket high school area, apparently was ignored by the town council, since not only did we not receive an acknowledgment of it, but, as we learned from the papers, the town council passed a resolution to do nothing about the high school area until the Hope Royal Commission has presented its conclusion."

The letter said that although the board was in unanimous agreement on the subject of the high school area, it did not insist on the area as the solution to the overcrowded condition of the school.

Applied For More Room

"We have on the files of the department of education of Ontario our application for an enlarged high school building, but nothing can be done about it until the question of the school area has been settled one way or another," the letter said.

"We strongly feel that unless we bring this fact of imperative need to enlarge our high school building to the attention of the proper authorities, which in this case happens to be the Newmarket town council, we, as members of the board, are not fulfilling our duties for which we have been appointed."

Deputy-Reeve J. L. Spillette said the purpose of the proposed high school area had been to allow a wider curriculum, rather than to increase present accommodation. "This is the first information we have received that the accommodation for the present students is not sufficient," he said. Councillor Caroline Edwards suggested that the board be invited to meet the council to discuss the situation.

"Could we have the finance committee of the board meet the finance committee of the council and then have a report?" Mayor Vale suggested. "The problem of the new wing and of the high school area are directly related," Councillor Edwards said. "If we have the new area a large new wing will be necessary. If we build a new wing, we will be able to have an enlarged curriculum but we will need a larger area to support it."

"If the area is passed, no vote of the people will be necessary to enlarge the school, but a vote would be necessary before the school could be enlarged without the formation of an area," Mayor Vale said. The letter was referred to the finance committee.

Text Of Letter

Full text of the letter: "This is a follow-up letter subsequent to our recommendation made, in writing, several months ago, to the effect that this board is unanimously in favor of Newmarket high school area."

"Inasmuch as Newmarket's population is growing, especially through the efforts of the Newmarket town council's industrial committee which, in the past few years, brought quite a number of new industries to the town, it is only logical that education and other facilities should be provided for by the town of Newmarket to its newcomers."

"Furthermore, inasmuch as we, the members of Newmarket high school board, have been appointed by the town council and other elective bodies to look after the interests of secondary education in this town, we consider it our duty to bring to your attention the fact that Newmarket high school is definitely no longer large enough to provide secondary education for the younger generation of our community."

"Our previous recommendation apparently was ignored by the town council, since not only did we not receive an acknowledgment of it, but, as we learned from the papers, the town council has passed a resolution to do nothing about the high school area until the Hope Royal Commission has presented its conclusion."

"Although this board is in unanimous agreement on the subject of the Newmarket high school area, we do not insist on this particular solution of our problem, but wish to repeat it again, if necessary, that something must be done, one way or the other, to accommodate the boys and girls of school age in this town."

"We have on the files of the department of education in Ontario, our application for an enlarged high school building, but nothing can be done about it until the question of the school area has been settled one way or another."

"We strongly feel that unless we bring this fact of imperative need to enlarge our high school building to the attention of the proper authorities, which in this case happens to be the Newmarket town council, we are not fulfilling our duties for which we have been appointed. We are therefore submitting to you this letter for consideration and hope that at least this time you will take some action which will result in a suitable solution of our serious problem."

New Residential Section To Appeal Assessment

Newmarket—The army huts at the former military camp which were converted into homes by Jack W. Bowser, Aurora contractor, were assessed last year at $1,900. Following an appeal by the owners of the eight of the nine homes, that were then occupied, the assessment was lowered to $1,500. This year the assessment has again been raised to $1,900 and again the owners plan to appeal.

Lacking sidewalks and a storm sewer, the owners of the houses feel the assessment at $1,900 is too high when compared with similar properties. Some of the owners believed their taxes would be around $60. On the $1,500 assessment, their taxes are $70.50. K. M. R. Stiver, who has been handling the sales of the houses, says that there was no agreement respecting taxation.

Councillor Frank Bowser, chairman of the roads and bridges committee of the Newmarket town council, said that as long as there is construction work going on, there is no point in putting in sidewalks. "I can't say what next year's council will do," he said. "There won't be any sidewalks put in this year."

The residents of the area also complained of the heavy dust kicked up on the dirt roads through the section by the construction traffic. Mr. Bowser said that the roads had been oiled in the summer.

It is understood that the residents petitioned for a storm sewer to be put in. During the wet spell, some said they did their laundry in the basement in rubber boots. Denne Bosworth, town engineer, said he did not know when the sewer could be put in because of the difficulty of locating a contractor. The sewer, to be put in as a local improvement with the owners and the town dividing the cost, will carry off excess surface water.

Revision of assessments has been sought in town council and a committee was named some months ago with H. J. Luck as chairman.

DEATH SENTENCE PASSED ON ELM TREE

The death sentence passed on the Old Elm on Timothy St. will occasion much regret in Newmarket, particularly among the older residents for whom the tree has become a symbol of stability in a world of rapidly changing values. Yet the decision cannot be questioned. A heavy expenditure to brace the tree will only postpone the inevitable. In the meantime, it will remain a hazard to traffic and to those who live beneath its branches.

Everyone is familiar with the legend that it was under the branches of that elm that Messrs. Roe and Borland began their "new market," trading furs to the Indians and using the tree as a convenient place on which to hang the pelts. The legend persists despite the fact that there is little real evidence of its truth. In the memory of the old timers questioned by The Era and Express, there is no recollection of a trading post at that site; they are agreed that it was on Main St. near Water St.

Mr. Silas Armitage says that the knoll on which the tree stands was covered with elms in the early days, and though it may indeed be that Messrs. Roe and Borland traded on the knoll there is no evidence that the Old Elm tree was the one which sheltered their transactions. Be that as it may, in the hearts of Newmarket citizens, the Old Elm tree remains the site of the founding of Newmarket.

It will be unfortunate if the tree is destroyed without anything left to mark its passing and the part it played in the growth of Newmarket. A plaque of some sort might be placed to the side of Timothy St. to mark its position after it has been cut down as a reminder of the years it stood in sun and storm. Certainly, photographs should be taken and placed in a "memory book" telling of the history of the tree, or as much of it as can be gleaned.

One suggestion has been that a cross-section of the tree be mounted on a stone base and placed in Lions park. The expense would be small and the preservation of the wood would require little in the way of yearly maintenance. The record of its growth, by the rings visible in the cross-section, would be in part the story of Newmarket itself.

ANOTHER HUNTER NOT LEGAL TROPHY

About this time of the year, the male of the family takes down his fowling piece and oils it, checks his heavy underwear and woollen socks, and buys a plaid shirt. His wife's face takes on the look of mute resignation that accompanies his absence on his annual hunting trip, and his children gather at his knee asking "How many bears are you going to shoot, Daddy?"

Unfortunately, there is a good chance that daddy may come home on a stretcher. Hunting accidents are reaching high totals as thousands of would-be nimrods crowd the forests. Never before have so many deers worn red shirts, never so many bears have been dressed in high boots and hunting hats.

Not all the accidents come from a too eager trigger finger; carelessness adds its share to the toll. Why a hunter will drag his loaded gun muzzle first through a barbed wire fence, or use it for a crutch in the heavy underbrush are questions to which there is no answer. The way some hunters use a gun, they would be better off with a walking cane; it will do all they expect a gun to do except shoot and that part doesn't matter because anyone who abuses his rifle shouldn't expect to hit the target anyway.

And why a hunter will carry his own brand of "snakebite medicine" with him into a bush where there are virtually no snakes is another unanswerable question—something like the why's of racing a railway train to a crossing.

Hunting is a fine sport and there is no need for it to be dangerous except for legitimate prey. The pelt of another hunter is not included in the legal bag, and the stuffed head of Daddy on the wall serves no useful purpose, not even as a hat-rack. The hunting season is here. Let's enjoy it without slaughtering ourselves.

THEY DON'T SLEEP ON MAIN ST.

The traditional portrait of a small town often includes what is somewhat mislabelled as a "sleepy Main St." The misnomer arises, we suppose, from the fact that those who paint or write of small towns never are in one long enough to find out what is happening.

Certainly there is nothing "sleepy" about Main St., Newmarket, apart from the refusal of the residents to wear themselves out with senseless hurry which is so often characterized in the city as the "business-like" attitude. The volume of business done on Main St. will rival that of any similar business section and it is accomplished without nervous breakdowns, also the trademark of that "business-like" attitude.

In recent weeks there has been more than the usual stir of activity with the sale of the drug-store business of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bell after ten years, and the departure of Mr. Harry E. Lambert as manager of the Bank of Montreal after a stay here since the fall of 1933.

There are rumors aplenty, being checked by The Era and Express, of new businesses coming to town. Real estate men report commissions for suitable business sites for other firms. Actual construction includes the new Loblaw store as well as a new motor sales store and service station at the corner of Queen and Main Sts. The construction of a block of offices opposite Millard Ave. is also being undertaken. Pending changes of address are also rumored. In none of this is there any suggestion of the "sleepy" Main St.

We can expect a continuation of these changes and growth for many years to come as Newmarket and the surrounding district assumes new importance. No one pretends to be sheltered from the economic forces which contribute to depression in other parts of the country, but the soundness of small town business generally, and the variety of its industries with their small number of employees act as a cushion against heavy lay-offs or failure of any one business with the subsequent mass unemployment.

TREATMENT OF SEX OFFENDERS ARCHAIC

Up to this past weekend, Toronto police had during the year arrested four men for rape, 40 for indecent exposure, 36 for indecent assault on females, nine for indecent assault on males, one for seduction, six for carnal knowledge, three for gross indecency, and two for incest for a total of 101 men, ranging in age from 18 to 80. Many of these men were "repeaters" men who had already served a term or more for sex crimes. One police official observes that "for every offence that results in a charge, there are 100 committed which never come to our attention."

Canada, which prides itself upon its criminal code, practices archaic conceptions in the treatment of the sexual psychopath or person disposed to commit sex crimes. Under Canadian law, there is no provision whereby such an individual may be indefinitely confined; instead, such a person serves his term in jail and then is freed to commit another sex crime. There have been sex offenders whose records have included as many as five or six convictions for sex crimes. Why are these men freed when it is known that they will repeat their crimes against another innocent person. It is comparable to releasing a tiger on Main St. at regular intervals. Sooner or later he is bound to strike.

The importance of indefinite confinement of such criminals is recognized in parts of the United States. In Illinois, a psychiatric examination is given all who are charged with sex offences. If the accused is found to be a person who for at least a year has shown a tendency to commit sex crimes, he is placed in an institution until he recovers. In Canada, a sexual psychopath is treated like any other criminal; although considered a mental defective by psychologists, he is presumed sane under Canadian law until proven otherwise. The nature of his crime is not accepted as evidence of his mental incapacity.

If the law could be changed to permit the indefinite confinement of such criminals, the next problem would be to educate the public to the financing of such institutions. Crown Attorney J. W. McFadden in Toronto points out that public feeling is inflamed when a sex crime is committed but questions that the taxpayer would support the necessary institutions.

Yet it is evident that the taxpayer must support those institutions if he and his family are to be free of the threat such criminals offer. How many more accounts of sex crimes must be reported before public opinion is sufficiently aroused to work the necessary reforms in our legal system, and accept the cost of protection without protest.

PLANNING FOR FUTURE GROWTH

In the last two years, Newmarket has experienced a quickened growth never paralleled in its history. New industries came to town, new businesses opened their doors, new homes were built in boom-time proportions. There was a wave of optimism, and predictions of development into a municipality of ten and fifteen thousand population within a very short time.

There is less talk, less enthusiasm nowadays because the most immediate assets to such growth have been used up. There are no more camp buildings to house industries, there are no more business sites on Main St. south of Millard Ave., and there are a very few residential lots left within the municipal boundaries. With the first rush over, now is the time to take stock. Newmarket can either choose to be content with what it has now, looking only to the resumption of the slow growth it has had in its past, or it can continue to promote itself as an industrial and residential centre but under new conditions.

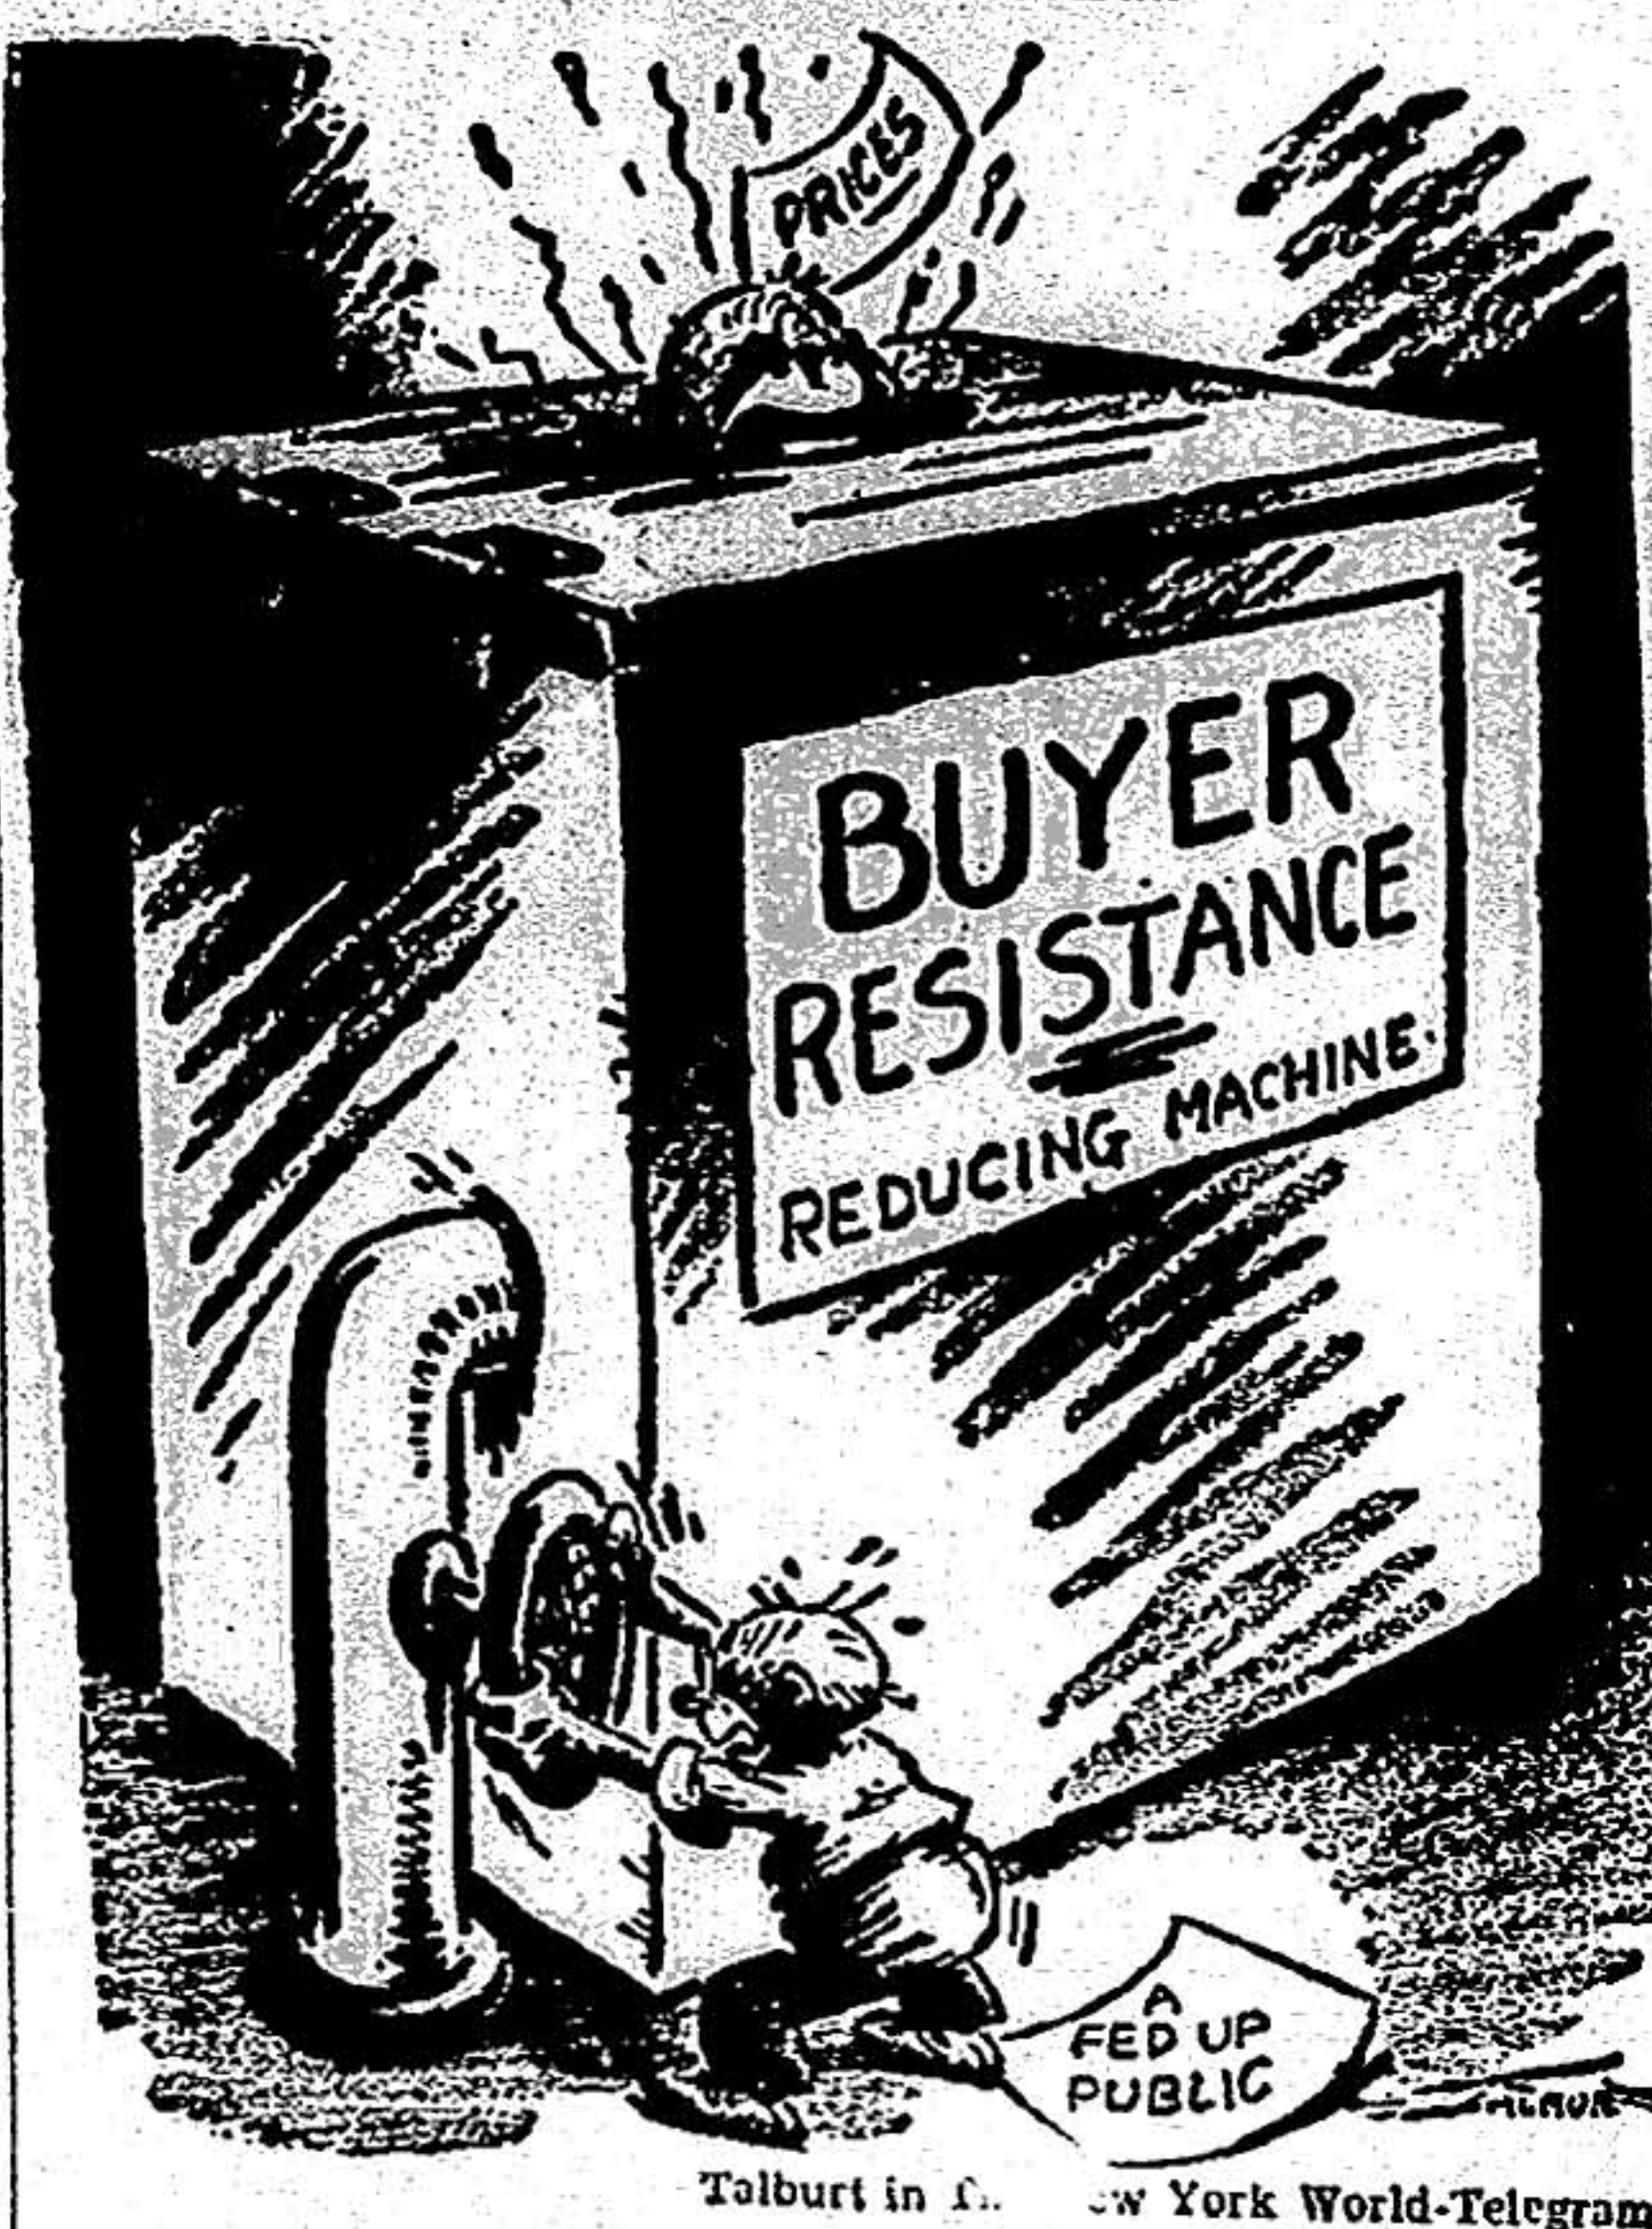

While Newmarket has used up its vacant buildings and major sites, it still receives the benefits of highway and railway facilities, proximity to large markets in Toronto, the prosperity of the surrounding district, and a certain amount of surplus labor. More important, it stands to gain from the scarcity of space and high cost of living that have combined to ease industry out of the larger centres. Newmarket, and similar centres, can only profit by the growing tendency towards decentralization in industry, however, if they are prepared to take advantage of it. If it is Newmarket's choice to shun further expansion, nothing more need be said. If the choice is promoted growth, it must be seriously planned and worked for. There can no longer be dependence upon luck. There must be a well integrated program of opening up new sites and promotion directed at the kind of industries that offer the most in stability and variety. That program must include means of expanding the business and residential section as well.

The first step in the formation of such a program is a thorough appraisal by an expert of Newmarket's possibilities. Professional advice must be sought as to the type of industry best suited for Newmarket and its requirements; direction of future growth of residential sections; best manner of improving the business section, and providing new sites.

On his recommendations, a master plan could be drawn, a guide to future councils in their road budgets and their expropriation proceedings. Given such guidance, Newmarket would be able to develop in an orderly and economical manner over a lengthy period with the means always on hand to meet the requirements of its growth.

There are not a few citizens who feel they are quite capable of making these decisions themselves. The folly of such misplaced confidence is most obvious in our tax bills and the existing bottlenecks to future progress. This time, let us call in an expert.

THE COMMON ROUND CORN-CUTTING

By ISABEL INGLIS COLVILLE

In the years before we came to the country to live, my knowledge of a silo was purely academic if I had any knowledge — I don't remember. When I did become aware of their existence they looked to me like something that belonged to Mars, or some futuristic style of architecture. Now I know a little about them, since I helped Mrs. Gordon McClure, in a small way, to feed the men who fed their silo, which sounds like "the house that Jack built."

I had heard from various sources that corn-cutting was the hungriest job in the world, and now I was to see what that meant.

So, on a gorgeous autumn morning, I repaired to Mrs. McClure's, armed with a small, extremely sharp knife. Do not misunderstand me. I had no sinister plan in view, but it's the only knife with which I can peel potatoes, so if I know I am going to peel potatoes this knife is my weapon of offence. I cut myself regularly, it's so sharp, but it is also my defence against blisters, should I get hold of a knife with which I am not familiar.

In the corn field I could see the men loading the wagons with the great stalks, while the horses stood with the indifferent air horses have acquired since they have come in contact with machinery. The rhythmic swing of the men's arms and the busy hum of the machine made a pleasant accompaniment for the soft song of the breeze through the autumn tinted leaves.

It was a marvel to me that enough force could be generated to send the cut corn up the long pipe to the silo's top. One knew that in the silo men were tramping down the corn, and it was so dry that they had to get a hose and wet it before it could be settled properly.

Activity in the House

Meanwhile, in the house there was activity equal to any achieved by mere males. Mrs. McClure was marshalling her forces to satisfy the innerman of 27 persons.

I looked at the potatoes, which looked back at me with all their eyes, and which three of us were presently to divest of their skins, and I laughed when I thought of the daily ration for two at our home.

Presently these were done and carrots and onions and corn were prepared, all to go into an immense and delicious Irish stew. Then the setting of the tables, with their abundance of bread and butter and pickles; dishes of plum preserve—I saw jar after jar emptied—and these accompanied by toothsome tea biscuits made by the daughter of the house.

Then I was introduced to the pies, which reposed in solitary grandeur on a table devoted entirely to them. I was told how to cut them and left to my own devices. With fear and trembling I approached the apple and custard confections, and not having a very straight eye, I felt some of the pies looked at me reproachfully for not having respected their contours.

When I rejoined the kitchen force Orley and Murray had been in to say that the work was nearly done and soon the rush would be on.

Warm water, soap, and towels were ready outside, while inside last-minute preparations were made. "Lots of tea," said Mrs. McClure, so lots of tea it was, with a watchful eye on the cups to replenish.

Just the Dishes Left

When you have prepared a meal you do like to see it enjoyed, and the lady of the house had that satisfaction. When we later collapsed thankfully into our chairs to eat our dinner, there was a delightful sense of relaxation—also an enormous stack of used dishes awaiting us. But there were compensations. The big meal of the season was over; the silo was filled and so held its promise of a welcome change on winter feeding for the cattle. No more would peaceful slumber be disturbed by the rustle of invaders in the corn; no more would the approach of a storm threaten a good cutting; no more would the problem of cutting partly trampled corn upset the calculations of Orley and Murray. Binder and reaper and rake and cutter, as well as hand-work had played a part, and now it was all over, a thing of the past.

One man in the community, Woodrow Wilson, solved his problem by taking all his cutters to a restaurant in Newmarket. That is one way and no doubt a good one, but do you know Mrs. McClure, Margaret Richardson, Dora and I had fun. We visited over the potatoes, we told stories over the carrots, we exchanged ideas and recipes innumerable, and felt the richer for the whole experience.

But let no one ever say to me that the woman of a household where corn is being cut does not do as good a job as the men. She plans, she prepares, she cooks and she cleans up, and whereas the men have a full silo, she has a depleted cupboard and the necessity to start the daily round again.

I heard of one funny experience at a corn cutting. The man in the story has a silo which contains a chute, and thinking that to go down the chute would be quicker and easier than to climb down the long ladder, he started his descent. I say "started" advisedly for he only got a little way when he stuck!

Most of the men had gone and when he called for someone to get him out, the ones who heard him thought he was fooling and called back, "that's a good place for you."

After they had gone a bit, they began to wonder and decided to go back. It was well they did because the poor man was stuck fast and it took the united efforts of his friends to extricate him. For the chute was narrow and the occupant was not.

However, all's well that ends well, and corn cutting is over for another year.

FLOOD VICTIMS SEND THANKS FOR BOXES

Newmarket — Three letters of thanks have been received from recipients in England of food and clothes sent through the British Flood Relief campaign in Newmarket. H. J. Luck was chairman for the campaign here, and the Red Cross and Women's Voluntary Services acted as distributors in Great Britain.

A letter from Mrs. V. D. Bond, Wellington, Hereford, said, "We have received the gift you so kindly sent us, and we are most grateful for it. We have managed to remove most of the traces of the flood now, and the lovely weather we have had lately has been a great help in drying out the house. Again, sincere thanks to all."

From E. and H. Haggart, also of Wellington, Hereford, comes a letter saying, "Dear friend: many thanks for the most lovely and useful gifts we have received. I shall always think of you every time I use it, and also remember your kindness toward us. My husband and I say 'thank you.'"

A letter from Mrs. P. D. Searson, The Nook, Wyton, Huntingdon, said simply, "Very many thanks for your kind generosity."

Around Town

About the men and women you meet around town almost everyday.

Winner of a Canadian Amateur Swimming championship and four Ontario diving championships, Madeleine Naomi Mathews has also been active in everything from political associations to leathercraft classes.

She was born in Toronto, the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Forster, who celebrated their 51st wedding anniversary this year, and she attended public school there. Her family moved to Barrie during the first world war and she attended Barrie Collegiate Institute until it burned down when she was in her final year. "That was quite a fire," she says. "There was nothing but the four walls left standing."

It was when she moved back to Toronto that she began to take swimming seriously, training five nights a week at the Y.W.C.A. and spending one noon hour each week taking instruction from Johnny Walker. She won the Ontario diving championships for four consecutive years, from 1918 until 1922, and she won the Canadian Amateur Swimming championship for 100 yards (speed) in 1919.

She turned professional in 1922 when she accepted a position teaching night classes in swimming, diving and physical education at Central Tech. In 1924 she began take similar classes at Riverdale (now Danforth) Tech, when it opened. She continued to teach until 1928 when she married Norman L. Mathews, K.C., and moved to Newmarket.

It was then that Mrs. Mathews began to show her executive capabilities. She became president of the Newmarket Women's Liberal Association almost immediately and is now past president of the Newmarket Women's Institute (1945) and the Home and School Association (1944). When the Newmarket Children's Welfare Association was formed, Mrs. Mathews became secretary and she has held the position ever since.

She was a member of the citizens' committee all during the time the Newmarket camp was located in Newmarket and as such served as a liaison officer between the citizens and the camp. She also chaperoned all dances at the sergeants' mess and represented the citizens of Newmarket at all camp weddings.

Her major war efforts, she says, were her activities as a member of the executive of the Soldiers' club of which she was vice president and convener of the kitchen committee for six years. She was also on the committee which included Mrs. Jack King and Mrs. Allen J. Cody and to whom the responsibility fell for entertaining visiting dignitaries. These included Brig. Holmes of the British Army staff in Washington, Col. Parsons who accompanied the brigadier and General Potts, head of M.D. 2.

Mrs. Mathews has always been extremely interested in recreation and health. She served on the recreation council in 1946 and this year is a member of the Newmarket Recreation Commission. She has been on the Newmarket public school board for the past two years and "will probably run again this year." She has one daughter, Kathleen, who is now in residence at Branksome Hall.

Lasting Friendships Made At Amsterdam Convention

(Miss Anna P. Lewis, director of the Women's Institute branch and home economics service of the Ontario department of agriculture, who recently attended the conference of the Associated Countrywomen of the World held in Amsterdam, Holland, has now returned home from Europe and gives her impressions of the conference in the following statement. Miss Lewis is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lewis, Yonge St.)

This past month, country women from 22 countries throughout the world met in Amsterdam with The Netherlands country women as hostesses. It was a colorful conference. Women gathered from all corners of the globe. Many were dressed in picturesque costumes typical of the country represented. On Dutch Day, 4,000 women of The Netherlands, dressed in gay traditional costumes, welcomed and entertained over 500 delegates.

The warmth and affection the Dutch women held for the Canadians touched me deeply. Gratitude shone in their eyes for all Canada had done.

This was a serious conference. These were practical-minded thinking women—the mothers and homemakers of the world—women who had tasted war and who knew what lack of world understanding had meant. They knew how war had affected the homes and families of the nations. They were there with one great objective—to bend every effort toward world understanding and peace.

Change Wrought By War

It was a different group of women meeting this time than at the last conference before the war. Those who had attended the previous meeting could not help but notice that the war had left its mark on the faces of the women. Some had spent time in the concentration camps; most had suffered losses. All came with courage, faith and high hope that the country women of the world, working together, can do much toward establishing world unity.

The conference started out on a high plane with an international church service on Sunday night. No matter what her race, color or creed, each woman uttered a prayer of gratitude and thanksgiving that once more the country women of the world could meet. To hear the Lord's Prayer sung in the various languages was a never-to-be-forgotten experience. Bonds of friendship, understanding and sympathy were materially and spiritually strengthened.

This was a working conference. Policies laid down and plans made proved that these women were women of action. A specific, practical program was mapped out whereby each individual country woman back home could take positive action toward building a better world. Agriculture, food and nutrition, health, housing, education and social welfare came under discussion. Plans were made for close co-operation with the food and agriculture or-

At an enthusiastic meeting on Monday evening, a hockey club was organized with the following officers: hon. pres., T. H. Brunton; pres., Capt. Allan; first vice-pres., Major Lloyd; second vice-pres., C. R. Montgomery; sec., F. Holladay; treas., J. J. Keyes; captain, first team, G. R. Simpson; captain, second team, Larry Doyle; executive, F. Sharpe, J. Kelly and W. Trivett.

Considering the wet morning, there were more people at the market last Saturday than one would expect to see. As high as 18 cents was paid for butter and eggs went up to 17 cents. Dressed chickens were from 40 to 50 cents.

Mrs. Seth Hollinshead has returned home after spending a week in the city with relatives.

Halifax papers report the induction of Rev. W. J. Armitage to the rectory of St. Paul's church, Halifax, before a congregation of nearly 2,000 on Sunday, Oct. 10. Mrs. Armitage is a niece of Rev. A. B. Y. Ramsay of Newmarket.

Miss Carrie Webber, daughter of Rev. Geo. Webber, formerly of Newmarket, was married on Wednesday. Invitations were extended to Newmarket friends.

The grain buyers here are still paying from 4 to 5 cents a bushel more for wheat than can be had at surrounding places.

Organization, the United Nations education, scientific and cultural organization and the United Nations appeal for children.

Better friendships were encouraged, as well as friendly exchange of visits between country women of the various nations.

A study of the country woman's day was suggested—a country woman in Ireland has quite a different day to a country woman in Ceylon. It is true that when we understand people better, we shall understand nations better.

Above all, the deep and lasting friendships made between women of the 22 nations represented cannot help but grow and strengthen international bonds of understanding and sympathy. Friendships made at the conference will spread and more and more women will have a personal and intimate interest in women and their families in other countries.

25 YEARS AGO

Mr. Ed. Adams has secured a lot on the old Roe estate at the foot of Main St. and has started operations for the erection of a new theatre 105' deep and 38' wide, with a residence on the second floor.

While in Montreal last week, Mr. Lem. Atkinson received the 33rd Degree of Masonry, and his title is now Inspector General Atkinson. It is a distinction that comes to very few Masons. Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Manning spent Sunday with friends in the city.

Mrs. W. A. Brunton is spending a few days in Rochester prior to her departure to Bermuda to spend the winter with her son.

The first picturesque touch of winter was on Tuesday morning when mother earth was covered with an inch of snow.

Last Friday morning Mr. Wm. MacLennan, who resides on lot 6 in the rear of the 5th concession of East Gwillimbury, found his house burning while he was at the barn. He is a bachelor living alone and he had put a big fire on in the house. The house burned completely but he was able to save some furniture.

On the Newmarket markets, butter was 40 cents a lb. and eggs were 45 cents a doz. this week.

The death of Michael Hodgins last Monday came as a surprise to friends of the family. He was 80 years old, having come to East Gwillimbury when he was two years old. His father had taken up land a little side of Jersey when it was a wilderness. He remained on the farm until 14 years ago.

LIBRARY CORNER

By CAROLINE E. ION

This week we shall turn the spotlight to the poetry section of the Newmarket public library where after but a few moments of leisurely browsing, we find many works of talented contemporary poets.

Air Force Poetry, an anthology of war poems written by men serving in the R.A.F. and F.A.A. and edited by John Pudney and Henry Treece, contains verse of an unusually high standard.

Another volume which was personally presented to the Newmarket library by the author, The Rt. Hon. Sir Thomas White, G.C.M.G., is The Battle of Britain and Other Poems. This Canadian poet is equally well known as a banker, speaker and statesman. One thousand copies of this volume were privately printed, of which this is No. 497.

Who Dare to Live, by Frederick B. Watt, lieutenant-commander, R.C.N.V.R., published by the Macmillan Company of Canada Limited, 1944, and Down Aisles of Calm, by Jean Percival Waddell, published by The Ryerson Press, Toronto, are both equally deserving of attention.

Another newly arrived book at the Newmarket Public Library is The Circle of Affection, the latest work of the eminent Canadian author and poet, Duncan Campbell Scott. Published by McClelland and Stewart, Ltd., Toronto, 1947, it is illustrated by the drawings of Thorau MacDonald. Dr. Scott has exerted a very important influence on our literature for over 50 years and this book presents the reader with an excellent opportunity to measure his development.

This volume includes not only Dr. Scott's latest work in verse and prose, but also many earlier poems and stories which had not previously been published in book form. The title for the collection was borrowed from the opening story.

2,500 NEW PHONE BOOKS Distributed In Newmarket

Newmarket—Expected to remain in town for the next 12 months, more than 2,000 new arrivals came to Newmarket last week and found no difficulty at all in finding places to stay. Accommodated in boarding houses, hotels, residences, restaurants and even in the police station, they are Newmarket's brand new telephone directories.

Crisp and fresh, with green covers, the new books, largest in the community's history, now take over the duties so ably performed during the past by their well-thumbed, buff-colored predecessors. An indispensable adjunct to the social and business life of the community, the directory is frequently the first resort in time of sickness, accident or other emergency, and on occasion has been credited with saving lives.

Because the new directory has nearly 3,800 new and revised listings, a number of them in the Newmarket section, C. E. Blosdale, Bell Telephone manager here, urges telephone users to refer to it before placing local and district calls. "In that way," he added, "the wrong number nuisance will be greatly reduced and the standard of service maintained."

Mr. Blosdale also suggested that subscribers discard the old directory with its outdated listings in order to avoid referring to it in error.

The new telephone book is also being distributed to Bell subscribers in Aurora, Brampton, Georgetown, Milton, Orangeville, Shelburne and Sutton.

J. E. JARVIS WEDS. IN CARLETON PL.

Jeanette Wellena, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Henderson, Carleton Place, Ont., became the bride of John Edward Jarvis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alf. Jarvis, Mount Albert, at the residence of the bride's brother, Mr. Cecil Henderson, Carleton Place.

The home was prettily decorated with baskets of gladioli and fall flowers. Rev. D. C. Munro, of Memorial Park United church, performed the ceremony. The wedding music was played by a niece of the bride, Miss Joyce Henderson.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore white chiffon over satin dress with brocade insets around the waist, Peter Pan collar, and long sleeves. She also wore a veil with a lily-of-the-valley headdress and carried a shower bouquet of red roses.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Earl Chambers, Toronto, sister of the bride, chose a mauve taffeta gown with matching accessories and carried a bouquet of mauve gladioli. Miss Joyce Smart, Toronto, was bridesmaid, and chose a similar costume of pink. She carried a bouquet of pink gladioli. The best man was Earl Chambers.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home. The tea table was adorned with pink and white decorations with a centerpiece of white mums and the bride's cake.

The couple went on a wedding trip to New York City and points in the United States, the bride travelling in a green wool suit with black accessories.

RUBY STRASLER MARRIED OCT. 6

Candelabra and tall standards of bronze shaded mums decorated Queensville United church for a lovely early autumn wedding on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 4, at 4 o'clock when Ruby Marguerite, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell G. Strasler, Queensville, became the bride of Murray Goodfellow Faris, son of Mrs. Faris, Maple Farm, Bradford, and the late Mr. Faris. The minister of the church, Rev. Albert Millen, was assisted in the service by Rev. H. W. Vaughan, Owen Sound, formerly of Bradford. Mrs. John L. Smith, organist, of the church, accompanied. Mr. Terry Doane sang Because before the ceremony and until during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely wearing a gown of ivory faille taffeta made with off-shoulder neckline, net yoke, fitted bodice, long tight sleeves with frilled cuff and full skirt extending into a train and featuring back pleating. Her long ivory net veil was arranged in halo effect and her flowers were crimson roses. Her only ornament was a three-strand pearl necklace, the gift of the groom.

The bride had four attendants, Mrs. Oistein Roed, Brooklyn, N.Y., matron of honor, and Miss Margaret Hildebrand, Toronto, bridesmaid, wore similar gowns of sprig green moire with long gloves in same material as their dresses and matching ostrich tips in their hair. Their flowers were Talisman roses. Miss Mary Ellen Mills, cousin of the bride, was junior bridesmaid and her dress was yellow taffeta. She carried cream roses and wore matching flowers in her hair. Mary Lou Faris, niece of the groom, made a charming flower girl. Her floor-length dress was of white brocade taffeta and she carried a frilled nosegay and wore a garland of flowers in her hair. Mr. Gordon Faris, Brampton, was his brother's groomsman and the ushers were the bride's cousin and brother, Messrs. Claire Smith and Reginald Strasler, and the groom's cousins, Messrs. John Sinclair and Kenneth Wood.

A reception with wedding supper was held in the church parlors following the ceremony. The bride's mother received 100 guests, wearing an ensemble of brown with satin trim and gold accessories and matching hat with corsage of Talisman roses. Mrs. Faris, mother of the groom, wore turquoise blue with black accessories. Her flowers were pink roses. Rev. H. W. Vaughan was toastmaster.

GOLDEN GLOW URGES MEMORIAL FOR ELM

By GOLDEN GLOW

There are quite a few items one could write about this week, but first on the agenda. I want to bring up the subject of our historic old elm tree on Timothy St. Naturally, we old timers feel quite sorrowful to think that it is doomed but we must admit that if it is a menace to those living in the neighborhood then there are no two ways about it. It should come down, and not be left to crash in a storm.

But here is my suggestion, and I hope others will write in to Mr. Editor and give their opinion as to what they think should be done. I suggest that when it is cut down, we save a good-sized piece of the trunk and encase it in cement on a cement base over in Memorial Park on D'Arcy St. opposite the Anglican church, with a suitable plaque stating that it is Newmarket's historical elm tree. I said encase it in cement. Maybe that isn't exactly the treatment needed to save it for future years—we would have to find out about that. The plaque of course couldn't tell all about it perhaps, but somebody could devise a suitable memorial I am sure.

As children, we were told that in earlier days Holland Landing was a thriving, busy place and Newmarket as a town just did not exist—there were only a few scattered homes here with a mill run by water from the stream that still runs through our town. The first Anglican church stood where the present one stands and the elm tree is directly north of it, just east of the present caretaker's home. I may be mistaken, but I think the church owned all that land, so the old elm would stand beside Anglican church property.

Parents Told the Story
Our parents told us and our school teachers told us that in these early days the little stream that meanders through the town was considerably larger—surely it must have been if they once considered making a canal of it, and the Indians used to come in up the Holland river in their birch bark canoes and meet the fur traders under the old elm tree. Wm. Roe, the first postmaster of the village, still without a name so far as I know, was prominent among the fur traders, and under him, it became quite an important centre, and it was called a new market in contrast to the old market at Holland Landing, and so the name gradually became accepted—as we evidently had no name whatever—and naturally the tall old elm with its shade and spreading branches was a very important spot in the little community.

I could not give a guess as to its age but it stood there in the young days of our parents, Mrs. James Sutherland and Mr. Silas Armitage. I am sure, both have interesting tales to tell of those early days and of things their parents used to tell them. They most likely can say if I am correct in my recollections. So, Mr. Editor, that is my suggestion, for with such a historical relic in our town, we should do something to preserve its memory, and I can't think of any other way, or of any more suitable location for a memorial of

Warm Season
This season has broken all records for a warm October, unless we have a drastic change in the next two weeks. This is Sunday afternoon, and it is a perfect day—so warm and sunny with only a slight breeze to bring more golden leaves down off the trees. Folks have had wonderful weather for clearing up fallen leaves and putting gardens into shape for winter. Never before have I experienced such a warm October when folks could let all fires out except a small one for evening and when the feminine portion of the community could go in cotton dresses with short sleeves (maybe lengthened hem-line but that's neither here nor there—this is no discussion on the present trend of fashions), and when you read this Thursday you can say to yourselves a week from tomorrow will be Hallowe'en. However, this being Canada, we can have as many more changes of weather as there are days before November. I'll have to save the rest for another time.

Newmarket seniors returned from Pickering last Thursday on the wrong end of an 8-11 score. For the first three-quarters of the game they were more than holding their own and then the roof fell in. Newmarket was leading by a score of 8-0 at three-quarter time. Bovaird kicked a single early in the first quarter, the ball going to the deadline. In the second quarter we recovered a Pickering fumble for a major score and Bovaird converted. In the third quarter McNern tackled a Pickering player as he was attempting to run the ball out from behind the lines for what proved to be the last Newmarket tally.

An extra long second quarter, lack of condition and injuries slowed down Newmarket and Pickering capitalized by the unleashing of a brilliant air attack which netted them two touchdowns, one being converted. Loss of a star linesman, Harold Proctor, with a head injury early in the game was a severe blow to Newmarket. In the closing minutes of the game, McNern made a brilliant 60-yard run which might have brought victory to the high school team had not an unfortunate penalty nullified the play.

For Newmarket, McNern and Grose played well in the backfield and Toole and Proctor played a fine game on the line. The team in general seemed to lack the fight and drive of their last game and did not play nearly so well. —Bill Ewing.

School Life
On Friday morning, if you were near the school, you would have seen the classes coming out to have their pictures taken. After much pushing around we were finally settled down and our best smiles were put on as the camera moved slowly around. After this was done with a mad dash we came back in to the school to begin the day's work.

Nominations for the Student Council chairman were held on Monday afternoon and the two elected were Pat Duncan and Ken Ball.

Elections to the Athletic Society are: pres., Audrey Rowland; vice pres., Jean Webster; sec., Betty Ball; treas., Beth Legge. The boys results are not out yet.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

Have you picked the next goal in your career? This may be a job higher up. It may be a broadened field of operation. Or it may be a plan for improving a farm, store or other business. But, whichever applies in your case, the important thing is to choose some goal and work ceaselessly towards it.

But before you start, make sure that you are distinguishing properly between day-dreams and practical objectives. Then work out a definite plan of operation, utilizing all the information you can get on the subject.

It is helpful, too, to picture yourself as having already attained your goal. This has the effect of making you willing to assume more responsibility and to think progressively.

Even people who are content with their present status often yearn for a "better deal". But they get nowhere because they do not work towards a goal. If they did, they would soon achieve the success they want.

The main objective of the life insurance companies in Canada is to provide maximum security at the lowest possible cost. Much progress towards this goal has been made—for today over 4,500,000 Canadians are life insurance policyholders.

Secret of Art's Success

Art is a popular teen-ager. He isn't tall, dark and handsome; but he has something more important than handsome features—namely, a winning personality. Art has a wide variety of interests and is always conversationally entertaining regarding these interests. He has a cheerful enthusiasm for life around him that makes him a congenial companion. His mind is alert and receptive to new thoughts so he is a willing listener. Art's ability to listen is probably the greatest contributing factor to his pleasant personality and a good audience is in demand in any society. Art is known as a "regular guy" among the fellows, is extremely popular with the girls and does credit to that group referred to as teen-agers when he is associated with adults.

In Art's family there are five children: one older brother, two sisters and one younger brother. By the time Art came along, the parents were taking children and their stages of development much for granted.

Nothing Art ever did came as a shock to his parents. When he had haywire brain waves, they listened calmly, told him what they knew on the subject, suggested where he could learn more and then left him to make his own decisions as to what course of action he wanted to follow.

Art's parents have an understanding of youth—its impetuous enthusiasm, limitations in reasoning powers and need for experience. So instead of trying to squelch the spirit of youth by condemning his ways, they have stood by giving him encouragement, sharing his enthusiasm, helping him develop his powers of reasoning and providing opportunities for new experiences to help him expand his views and interests. As a result, Art's parents have earned his confidence and it is to them he brings more and more ideas and never fails to keep them posted on his activities.

Failed With Others

The older brother and sisters had been raised under a system of strict discipline of thought and action. They had rebelled against their too strict home life. Two of them stopped giving details of their activities and refrained from mentioning thoughts and actions of which their parents were sure to disapprove. The third child showed her rebellious nature by openly defying her parents and taking pleasure in shocking them. All three of these children left home as soon as it was possible for them to be financially independent. None of them felt a close attachment to their home because they had felt misunderstood and ill-treated at home. There was no security there.

After failing with three children, the parents determined to adopt a more broadminded viewpoint of teen-agers in an attempt to retain the confidence and respect of the two younger boys. In Art's instance, the experiment has been highly satisfactory. Even at a younger age, Art has a finer sense of values and is morally much sounder than his older brother and sisters will ever be. Art is developing sound judgment and can be depended upon to make honest decisions based on his judgment. This attribute and the ability to do and say the right thing at the right time are reflected in Art's winning personality.

Home life makes such a difference in enabling the teenager to adjust to adult life.

Leathercraft Classes Opened At Stuart Scott

Newmarket—On Tuesday, Oct. 14, at the Stuart Scott school a course in leathercraft was begun under the sponsorship of the public school board of Newmarket and organized by the Newmarket Home and School Association. The course, which consists of one lesson a week over a period of 12 weeks, includes an afternoon and an evening class. The total enrollment is restricted to 24.

The instructor, Mrs. J. J. Cameron, Keswick, has given similar courses of instruction in Barrie and Orillia, as well as in other cities. "The object of the course is not just to make a purse," says Mrs. Cameron, "but also to teach the general principles of the work so that afterwards it will be possible for anyone having completed the course to proceed with more advanced leather work on his own."

"Because of the increased price of leathers and the necessity to conserve all of these scarce materials, smaller items will be made. However," said Mrs. Cameron, "the fundamentals of leathercraft will be covered. In the key case, the students will learn how to set in a key plate and initial steps in tooling and dyeing. In the comb case, they will learn the simple lacing on three sides with no lining as well as more dyeing and tooling."

"In the change purse, the addition of lining, padding and lacing all around provide the next steps in instruction. So that when the time arrives to attempt the last item, a large purse, the student will have had adequate practice. The large purse includes the addition of a gusset to the other acquired skills in leathercraft. The method of putting in a pocket will be taught. A different set of tools are required for fancy lacing so therefore it will be the simple lacing which will be done on the purse. However, a demonstration of the former will be included in the course."

"The Home and School Association," said Mrs. N. L. Mathews, convener of leathercraft work, "was disappointed that all could not register for this first course but it is hoped that a second course can be organized for the spring." Anyone who is interested in this proposed course should contact Mrs. Mathews.

Immunization Clinic In Newmarket Oct. 30

Newmarket — It has been the practice in Newmarket to offer free immunization against communicable diseases in the spring and the fall of the year. The first of the fall clinics this year will be held in the office of the public health nurse in the municipal building on Oct. 30, when Dr. L. W. Dales, medical officer of health, will conduct a clinic to immunize against diphtheria and whooping cough.

According to Miss Clara N. Kittmer, public health nurse, parents who wish to have their school children immunized against diphtheria and whooping cough, should send them to school as usual on Oct. 30. "The teacher will arrange to have a senior pupil accompany the young children to the clinic room at 9 a.m. to receive the first treatment in a series of three. The second and third treatments will be administered three weeks apart," Miss Kittmer said.

"Parents are invited to bring their infants, six months of age and over, and pre-school children from one to five years of age, at 10 a.m. Vaccinations against smallpox will be offered possibly on the dates of the second clinic." Miss Kittmer will assist Dr. Dales in administering these treatments.

The North York
GARDENER

By JOHN DALY

Vice President, Newmarket Horticultural Society

At this time of year, there are many odd jobs to be done. One which is not usually done but can save a lot of time in the spring is the sowing of seed, annual and perennial. For instance, if you like a bed or border of the popular phlox, drummondii or annual phlox, now is a good time to get the seed in.

The seed doesn't seem to germinate well when sown with the other annuals. Earlier sowing in the spring, before the warm, sunny days, is quite successful but is usually forgotten at that time. So the best time is the fall. This idea was suggested to me by the way self-sown seed produced beautiful plants year after year while seed carefully sown in May failed to germinate satisfactorily. Another member of the Society tells me he never sows petunias and yet always has scores of them to transplant in the spring. Larkspur is another annual that seldom fails to come back each year. The poppy family, too, does very well from seed sown the previous fall.

To get better control of where they are going to bloom, I would suggest loosening up the soil and getting a fine seed bed where you want the plants to bloom and sowing the seed. A lot of you like an edging of sweet alyssum. Now if you prepare the soil along the edge of your border, sow the seed and early in the summer your white edging is there. It saves a lot of tedious work transplanting although there will be some to fill in the spaces. Seed beds prepared in front of the place where your tulips are planted and sown with some annual seed will give you cover for the unsightly tulip foliage.

There are lots of other annual plants not mentioned here that can be sown now. Perennials, too, can be sown now for an early start in the spring. Fancies are a notable example. Earlier flowers are obtained from seed sown in July and August, but if you didn't get them in now is the next best time.

Changing the subject, I've been busy planting my small tulip bulbs and the small lily bulbs. These are the young bulbs found growing from the big ones when you dig them up. I have a corner where I dig trenches about three to four inches deep and I plant the bulbs there, keeping each variety labeled with the name. The size of the bulb determines the depth. For instance, the larger ones, getting close to the blooming size, are planted deeper but the tiny ones are only an inch and a half to two inches deep. Next spring I'll look over these and pinch off any buds that form so that more strength is retained by the bulb to bring up to flowering size. A large stock of tulips can soon be built up in this way.

I planted about 750 of these today. A large percentage of these will be flowering size next fall. The small lily bulbs found growing around the old stem can be propagated in much the same fashion. The speed with which small bulbs gain large size depends on the soil and on the variety. In any case it makes an interesting hobby.

Before closing this week's column, I just want to remind you to get in lots of soil for your winter garden. This means good garden soil, clean, sharp sand and peat, moss and some bone meal. We will soon be using it.

ISN'T IT JUST AS IMPORTANT TO KEEP HEALTH IN REPAIR?

Certainly, we must protect our possessions—keep them in first class condition. But which possession would you care to value above health? If health heads your list, as surely it should, why not take the simple step to keep it there? Go to your doctor for a thorough physical check-up. Ask every member of your family to do likewise. . . . Should the physician issue a "preventive" or "corrective" prescription, bring it to this "reliable" pharmacy for prompt, precise compounding.

ENGAGED "HEELING IN" FOR NEXT YEAR'S SHIPMENT OF TREES

A picturesque scene at the Dominion forestry farm at Indian Head, Sask., where workers are now engaged in "heeling in" trees for shipment next spring. These will go to farmers on the "bald prairies" where they will provide hedges and shelter belts, giving welcome shade and reducing soil drifting in a few years' time. Deciduous trees, such as caragana, poplar, ash and elm are lifted and tied in bundles of 25, placed in a plow furrow, and plowed in. In spring they are easily taken from the furrow and shipped to planters. Last spring the forestry station sent 5,620,000 trees to prairie farmers, and expects a bigger season still in the spring of 1944.

Jr. Farmers Plow At Home, Compete For $300 In Prizes

The prize lists for the 28th annual Junior Farmers' home plowing competition, just issued, show a greatly increased list of prizes and a number of most attractive new specials. In addition to the A. J. H. Eckhardt silver tea service, again donated by the late Mr. Eckhardt's family, a valuable wrist watch has been donated by Jack Fraser, Toronto.

Competitors plow areas of their own farms and the work is later judged by W. L. Clark, Gormley. Results of the judging are announced later.

The Lions club of Weston has offered two $25 bus trips for a Junior Farmer tour, The T. Eaton Co., a valuable tray, Floyd Perkins, Richmond Hill, a $20 set of wrenches, and Clarence Graham, Woodbridge, a silver cream and sugar set with tray. To encourage the boys 16 and under, J. A. Greene, Richmond Hill, is giving four prizes of $4, $3, $2 and $1 to the four youngest plowmen and Clark Young, Milliken, is giving ten bushels of registered Ajax oats to supplement the cash prizes in some of the classes.

With over $300 in prizes offered, it is expected there will be greatly increased interest in the contest this year. The juniors are having their banquet and presentation of prizes at Buttonville on Thursday, Oct. 30, a day earlier than stated on the prize lists to avoid Halloween parties on the night originally planned. The juniors' public speaking and entertainment competitions will be held at the banquet also.

Glen Atkinson, B. Hamilton To Represent Sharon Club

The Schomberg Calf club held its Achievement Day at Schomberg fair October 11. Mr. O. S. Tritt, county agent for Warren county, Pennsylvania, was on hand to judge the calves. In the Holstein entry Glen Hulse had the top calf, while Ronnie Marsh led the winning Guernsey and Jim Sheardown the Jersey. The calf halter for showmanship went to Doug Brown, Schomberg, while Glen Atkinson placed second. On the year's standing Bob Hamilton led the club with 929 points out of 1,000. In second place was Glen Atkinson with 905. Other standings in order were Glen Hulse, Norman Hamilton, Alan Kelley, Ronnie Marsh, Jim Sheardown, Doug Brown and Dawson Aitchinson.

The winner of the Kiwanis scholarship to the O.A.C. is Glen Hulse. This year the Schomberg Calf club will send a team to the inter-club competitions at Guelph. Glen Atkinson and Bob Hamilton will have the honor of representing the club.

Supervision of the club work has been in the charge of Archie McKenzie, Newmarket, assistant agricultural representative for York, who was assisted by the local club leaders, Gordon Orr and Bruce Snider, Maple, and Jack Wauchope, Schomberg.

W.I. Meeting
The October meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. W. Case with an attendance of 19 members and six visitors. Many more members joined the Blue Cross Hospitalization Plan. Anyone desiring to do so should notify Mrs. G. W. E. Macpherson.

The Institute and Women's Association packed the boxes for Britain last week. Twenty-five dollars was donated to assist with the postage. Mrs. Arnot Harrison was appointed delegate to the convention in Toronto in November. Roll-call, "things to improve our community," was answered by suggestions to provide some means of entertainment for our young people, and that young parents should accompany their children to church and Sunday-school, and not to feel that they have done all that was required of them when they send them off to Sunday-school alone.

A collection for the Queen Mary Cot was taken. It was decided to sponsor a Halloween party in the community hall for the children. The program was in the charge of the agriculture and citizenship committee of Mrs. Walt Rate and Mrs. Reg. Wilbee. Mrs. Ethel Harnen gave a humorous reading entitled, "Ma's Tools." Mrs. Reg. Wilbee read a paper, "Farming in other lands," which was prepared by the committee and very much enjoyed. Excerpts from the paper are: "Beginning in Holland, all cattle must be accredited herds and all grain sown must be certified. Holland is also famous for bulbs and flowers which are shipped to all parts of the world. The barns which house the cattle and horses are as clean as most houses, and most people have their living quarters over the hay loft."

"Russia with her labor done mostly by women has a very small grain average and the government taking a portion of that." "Two-thirds of the population of Greece is composed of farm folks." "In Poland, whose need of food is urgent, some families are forced to live with the hogs and chickens in a hole in the ground."

Mrs. Geo. Scott gave a reading entitled, "Farming is a way of life."

The meeting closed with a social half-hour.

Mrs. Aluey Lunau and daughters, Doreen and Ruth, viewed Toronto from the air on Sunday. Their plane was piloted by Canada's youngest licensed girl pilot, Miss Marilyn Howes, Toronto.

Mrs. Fern Palmateer is visiting this week in Toronto after spending nearly three weeks in Toronto General hospital.

The parents are asked to bring along a treat for the kiddies to the Halloween party as usual and so help them to finish off the even with a lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Carr spent Sunday at Stouffville with Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Jarvis.

Rev. W. H. Burgess will be the guest speaker at the Chero Group meeting on Saturday evening at Mrs. M. Stokes' home.

Miss Bertha Harman has returned from the Western hospital feeling much better.

Mr. Wm. Rolling has moved to his new home on the 4th of Scott, having rented a house from Mr. W. Barker.

Mrs. Walter Graham has been confined to the Western hospital where she underwent a serious operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Reg. Wilbee and Mr. and Mrs. H. Parson spent Sunday at Kitchener with Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Pearson.

Hartman Anniversary

Leadership of Mrs. Angus Cowieson, will sing at the evening service. Rev. George Pugh, organist-composer, will present a half-hour organ recital at the close of the service.

Organ Recital

Keswick and surrounding community will be rarely privileged when on Monday night, Oct. 27, at 8.15 p.m., the famed concert organist, Giuseppe Moschetti, will give a recital on the new organ. This young organist will play the kind of organ music everyone loves to hear and will exhibit all the many beautiful features of this fine new organ. Giuseppe Moschetti completed his eleventh engagement at Eaton auditorium on Wednesday of this week. The congregation of Keswick United church invites all music lovers to hear this exceptionally fine program.

KESWICK

Mrs. Jack Heeden and son, Terry, Guelph, were weekend guests of Mrs. Heeden's mother, Mrs. Etta Wilder.

The Christian church anniversary services Sunday were well attended. Rev. Konkle, Toronto, is well known here, having only recently retired after 25 years with the Mission for Lepers which meant coast to coast speaking tours. He gave two inspiring sermons. The soloists at the morning service were Mrs. Filyer, Toronto Bible College, and Mr. Cecil Prosser. In the evening they again sang with Miss Lillian Holborn, Sutton, giving two solos. Their messages in song were a pleasure indeed to those present and did much to make the services a success. Lovely flowers decorated the church.

Rev. Konkle, Toronto, and Mr. and Mrs. Filyer, Willowdale, were guests of Rev. and Mrs. R. J. Serrick on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Gilroy, Oakville, were weekend guests of Mrs. A. Gilroy and Miss Eva Gilroy.

Mrs. Etta Wilder visited Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Anderson, Sutton, a few days this week.

Keswick stores are now closing every evening at 6.30 except Saturdays.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Hamilton spent Sunday at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Vic Acheson.

Sunday callers of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Leppard were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mitchell, Aurora. With them were Mrs. James Albert York, Sault Ste. Marie, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith and Mrs. Wm. Eves, Queensville.

Mr. A. E. Storms and mother of Toronto were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Orval Huntley. Thanksgiving guests at the Huntley home were Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Tanner and Mrs. Duncan King, Jackson's Point. Mrs. King is in her 93rd year and is still quite active. Mrs. King and her late husband farmed near Keswick for many years.

Mr. and Mrs. Orley Hayes and Margaret had tea Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Art King.

Mrs. Emeline Sedore has been spending a few days at the home of her sister, Mrs. F. Fountain.

Rev. Fred. Breckon had a weiner roast at his summer cottage Saturday evening. About 60 of his Newmarket friends were there and the large bonfire was kept going by Mr. Tommy Hayes who is in his 89th year. A rousing sing-song passed the evening.

Walter Dyer is home from hospital again. Mr. Churchill is building him a new home.

To Dedicate Organ
Sunday, Oct. 26, will be a day long to be remembered in the history of Keswick United church. The anniversary guest minister will be Dr. W. P. Fletcher, who has a host of church and Sunday-school friends. At the morning service the new electric organ will be dedicated. Rev. M. Redvers Brown, pastor of the church, will conduct the dedicatory service.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Cryderman and Mrs. Ed Cryderman, Sr., visited Mr. and Mrs. Willard Cryderman, Queensville, on Sunday.

The shower given in Belhaven hall for Miss Louise Anderson and Billie Stephens last Thursday was well attended. They received many beautiful and useful gifts. The good wishes of the community are extended to the popular young couple.

The W.M.S. service in the church last Sunday was well attended. The speakers were two student ministers, Mr. Gordon Winch and Mr. Harold Alexander. Mr. Winch told of his work at Morrillville, northern Alberta. Mr. Alexander outlined the life one must live to gain peace, happiness and contentment and said that we must take on the whole armor of God and to get it, we must give ourselves to be used for God's service.

Both speakers gave an outline of the work students do in mission fields. Special music by the girls' choir with Mrs. A. Cowieson at the piano was much appreciated.

Miss Irene Coomer has started a hairdressing shop in Baldwin. Best wishes for Irene's success. Many from this community are planning to attend the plowing match on October 29 on Willard Cryderman's farm near Queensville.

Mrs. Barton Ward is spending a few days with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Winch, Keswick.

Mrs. Ross O'Brien, Baldwin, has a fine flock of turkeys right in town and they are very aristocratic, strutting about the pen showing off their fine feathers.

OVERSEAS CHIT-CHAT

Billy Mundell, young Lochinvar from Aurora, is in full swing in the Scottish hockey league and doing right well. Mundell is a member of the Glasgow Bruins who are garbed in royal blue and white. Bill is number nine and is teamed with Andre Girard, 23-year-old forward from Montmorency, Que., and Bob Lantz, Galt, who played with Fife Flyers last winter. Ron Litner, who played with Whitby juniors three years ago in the district junior group, is a member of the same club. Coach of the team is Les Tapp who has played overseas since 1936 and after serving with the R.C.A.F., stayed overseas. On his 19th birthday Bill really celebrated, getting what proved to be the winning goal in a 4-2 score. It was a real birthday present for the popular Aurora boy and gave Bruins their first league win. "Plenty of back slapping of Mundell by his teammates as it was young Mr. Mundell's birthday and he had scored so everybody was happy except the Pirates" that's the official word on it. While playing for Glasgow, Bill resides at Paisley and in the house where he lives, he has been adopted as one of the family. A boy 17 and a girl 19 are in the family and Bill is doing a bit of studying on the side. He misses Canada, however, and doesn't think Scottish lassies can compare with the Ontario slick chicks. The league is composed of eight teams with such names as Dundee Tigers, Ayr Raiders (no pun), Perth Panthers, Fife Flyers, Bruins, Pirates, Dunfermline Lions and Kirkcaldy Vikings. Paisley and Glasgow use the same arena.

A sit-down strike was staged by the Perth Panthers in a recent game and the S.H.A. immediately fined the players two pounds each and the captain five pounds. New players from Canada are hinted. We note that Eddie Michanuk, who once played for Markham juniors and is a brother of Aurora's Frankie Michanuk, is with Dunfermline and Jimmy Yeaman, who played with a Toronto juvenile team two years ago is with Dundee Tigers. Somehow or other we have always been given the impression the Scots were a "tight" race. Bear in mind for soccer and hockey the 1947 edition of the Highland laddies pays even more than you and I and likes it.

SMOKE, SMOKE, SMOKE THAT CIGARET

Sir Nicholas Bangay, the square of Highland Creek, who has sparkled on the ice lanes of North York since 1940, except for two years overseas, has seen the gleam of the filthy lure and turned pro with Philadelphia Ramblers. The fact that one of the famous Bangay brothers will not be on hand this winter has already caused "Cecegar" McDonald to give away a pack of LaPalinas. Nick, a rugged performer and still in his early 20's, has all it takes to make good and in his second game, he suffered a painful accident when he broke his shoulder. Nick will be back before Christmas and we'll watch his progress with more than passing interest. Hold the phone! We've just received a report of one of those dog bites man cases. It seems that Bill Mugford in some of his lonely hours on the night shift has been teaching Freddie Waites the intricacies of "fifteen two, fifteen four". The other night Bill rubbed his eyes and looked again at rotund Freddie plopped down a twenty-five hand. It was three fives and a jack in the hand and another five on the cut in a two-man cribbage session. Fred really chortled like old St. Nick. It's the second 29 we have reported in the last year. When is it our turn?

Herbie Cain and Hughie Mair both got off to fine starts in their opening A.H.L. games. Herb scored a goal in 29 seconds and Hugh fired home the winning goal for Washington Lions. Cain also got his first penalty of the year. Both boys look headed for a big season in the minor pro ranks. Joe Selertzi, the Hungarian lad from Milton who was a standout in the junior group in 1942, has moved up from Boston Olympics to Hershey and has already made good. Enio Seliszi, who played on that same Milton team against Aurora, has come from Indianapolis to Detroit Red Wings and played against the Leafs on Saturday night. Milton juniors, the district winners of '42, thus have two players in pro now. We hope they collect that so-called fee from the C.A.H.A. Two or three years ago, we filed a claim on behalf of Aurora juniors with Billy Hewitt for rights on Joint McComb, Hugh Mair and Billy Wilson, all former Aurora players. That, so far as Aurora is concerned, is the last anybody heard of it. The returns, while not much, would be worth turning over to the Aurora juniors. You have the entire free gratis for your present hockey plans, Mr. Simmons. Could be that you could out-talk Mr. George Dudley, the treasurer.

Schomberg ladies, unknown to most of the district softball fans, didn't hang up their uniforms as the rest of the gals did in September. They played in the newly formed rural ladies' softball series and went through to the finals. They lost out in the third game at Cooksville last Saturday to Western Ontario team. Collingwood has approved the magnificent sum of $165,000 for a new artificial ice plant, to get underway in 1948. Hespeler opens its new plant in December. Ever compare the respective populations with Newmarket and Aurora and also compare the neighboring rink oppositions? It can be done as the folks in other places have certainly demonstrated. Who'll bell the cat

Don Willson, otherwise known as "Brains" when he played wing for the Newmarket Redmen in 1933, has decided to retire from active competition this winter and he dons the mortar cap and gown to mentor the Toronto Marlboros senior entry. Don has all it takes to do a good job and he'll be in there pitching with sponsor and employer Jack Stafford looking in and another tiny feminine mouth in the Willson menage needing an extra quart of milk. "Gentleman Joe" Primeau will do the actual coaching with Don as understudy. Just in case any of youse guys and gals decide you'd like to drop a line to Bill Mundell, we forgot to tell you up front that his address is 50 Candren Road, Paisley, Renfrewshire, Scotland. An answer will be forthcoming in due course.

A trade involving two heroes of yesteryear to the burghers of Newmarket was that which saw 28-year-old Billy Taylor, former ace of the boys from No. 23 B.T.C., traded by Detroit Red Wings to Boston Bruins for none other than his ex-army linemate, Armand "Bep" Guidolin. The trade should be a salutary one for both players. Detroit is seeking youth and Guidolin is only 21. Boston needs a centre player and perhaps you've noticed in recent years how well hockey oldsters last in Beantown. Taylor accounted for 63 scoring points last winter while Guidolin was getting 23. Actually, if you asked a question of opposing players and the fans who saw that Newmarket team in action as to the best player, the answer would be neither Guidolin nor Taylor in most cases, but that of Joint McComb, currently slaving for St. Louis Flyers. As we've said before, this is the big year for McComb to prove his real worth and move out of the A.H.L. "The fault, Dear Brutus, lies not in our stars."

The Timbers brothers, Carl and Howard from Hartman Corners, both of whom have played baseball for Aurora and Milliken, distinguished themselves in the International Plowing Matches held at Kingston last week. From a well known family of distinguished plowmen including father, uncles and cousins, it was but natural the lads would be able to produce a straight furrow. Carl finished second in the jointer plows closed class. Howard was fourth twice in the boys under 18 horse classes. Bayard Bryant, Woodbridge, is the new Canadian Legion zone E 2 sports officer. Bayard has played most sports and is a firm believer in the value of backing minor sports. He should do a dandy job. Cribbage, basketball and five-pin bowling as well as individual branch interests are included in the Legion's program.

THE WHEELS WENT ROUND AND ROUND
Orchids to Jack Offord and the lads of the Aurora Cycling club for the big Thanksgiving road race. It attracted 39 riders, some from as far as LaSalle near Windsor and from Tillsonburg and Delhi. The crowd on hand basked in the sunlight and enjoyed every minute of the race, especially from the tenth mile onward. Importance of the Aurora race can be seen with the presence of Bert Sharpe, chairman of the Canadian Olympic Wheelmen's committee. Some of the riders you saw will take the trip to England next year. In case you wonder just why the Aurora club riders didn't make a better showing, you can blame it, and rightly so, on poor handicapping. The Aurora lads were forced in most instances to ride with more experienced riders. The time was decided on previous events and some of the outside riders in other races, once they saw they couldn't win, used their noggin' and dogged home or didn't finish. The local boys in every race they've been in rode to win and the tactics, while to be commended on a sporting basis, didn't pay off in this instance, as the results of the past year were chalked up against them. Messrs. Chapman, Benvenille, Skoad, McClenny, Heath, Steadman, Foster and the junior riders need not be ashamed of their performances. Some of them were under handicaps by way of health, limited training or bike trouble. Smokey DeMaeyer, Delhi, who rode from scratch and finished second in the time, has probably ridden his last race. Just released from the R.C.A.F., he leaves shortly to join the American army. Fifty-eight-year-old Gus Hogben, Hamilton, who finished the race, and ten-year-old Murray Chapman, Aurora, who likewise went the route, were two of the most popular and colorful figures in the event. The cycling club is one sports organization that has stood on its own feet and stood the test of time, with a war record second to none and a grade A rating for pure unadulterated sport. More power to them and by the same token, more support for them, too, from the folks in North York.

SHOES
Insley's store has hundreds of pairs of shoes for men and boys. No wonder Insley's style leader store has such a shoe business year after year! This store is properly merchandised and priced correctly.

Floyd Cunningham was in Haliburton last week. Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Leith attended the funeral of Mr. Leith's sister-in-law in Huntsville last week.

A number from here attended Sharon anniversary services on Sunday.

MANNY FEDER DIES

Funeral services were held on Tuesday from Holy Blossom Synagogue, Toronto, for Manny Feder, Temperanceville, former well known Toronto sporting figure who has resided at Temperanceville for some years and possessed one of the district's finest herd of cattle. Mr. Feder, who was in his 37th year, died suddenly after a brief illness. He had made many generous donations to district charities and organizations during his residence in the township.

Aurora—Dr. G. A. C. Gunton had his automobile stolen from a Toronto parking lot last week. It was recovered by Toronto police in another lot some days later with a minimum of damage done.

Golden Glow Reflects On Christmas Prospects

Advertisers already are preparing for Christmas shopping and it is just Thanksgiving Day. I chuckled to see Christmas tree decorations advertised last week.
But there's nothing like getting folks in the mood for Christmas buying. "Shop early and often," etc. But if it had been during our recent "cold snap" it might have struck a responsive chord—but it was while we were again enjoying summery weather and it didn't go over quite so big.
All the same, it won't be long now and I needn't say anything for a recent article asked everyone to get their Christmas parcels for Britain, and elsewhere, off pretty soon so as to be in time for Christmas.

It won't be long till you'll see delicious Christmas recipes in the cooking columns of dailies and weeklies and monthly magazines and we'll copy them and decide if to try them and I wouldn't mind betting a cookie we put them away so safely that when the time comes to get busy we won't be able to find them about the first Sunday in Advent, or to be exact, the Sunday before Advent, when the collect for the day begins "Stir up, we beseech thee".

Referring to that last sentence,
you must not think me irreligious for indeed it is not that. In the old times in England, when the church's customs invaded every phase of everyday life, the collect for each Sunday was used by every household all the week. So you can imagine the housewife with her family gathered round her, teaching them the collect while she kept on with her household duties. You see, they used to make their famous English plum puddings a month before hand so as to give them time to "ripen", just as we still do today. And I can just imagine myself in an English kitchen, in olden days, with everyone having a "stir" at the batter of the Christmas pudding, for we all know they must be stirred well and it is quite a job—or was—before we got electric mixers. And as they stirred, the mother taught them the collect,

"Stir up, we beseech Thee, O Lord," as you find it in the Church of England prayer book.
So it became the custom for what they called "stir-up Sunday", to be the week for making their Christmas plum puddings.

Don't you love to trace these old customs back to their origin?
Our parents brought the old customs to their new homes and we naturally following in their footsteps. So, if you mark that special time for plum puddings and Christmas cakes, you will know you are doing it in accordance with the traditions handed down from our forefathers!

Why Plum Pudding?
I wonder how Christmas puddings came to be called "plum duff"? That is something I never gave a thought to before.
Do you suppose it has any connection with the expression "Lead on, McDuft"?

By the way, do you recall the old nursery rhyme about a plum pudding? All I can recall at the minute is one verse. Maybe the rest of it will come to me later—or maybe somebody can recall it for me. Somebody often writes or calls me up and helps me out when I get stuck. Here's the verse: A bag pudding the king did make, And stuffed it well with plums. And in it put great lumps of fat, As big as my two thumbs!

I suppose a bag pudding was one tied in a pudding cloth and boiled. But why the king? I recall how we used to sing it when children—"a bag pudd-ing" with the accent on the "ing". I do wish I could recall the rest of it! I haven't thought of it for ages.

What queer happenings in our childhood cling to us and we remember them years later and the years in between seem more vague and shadowy. Is it a sign of old age? But how we do love to recall childhood days, the carefree days when, for instance, we all gathered in the kitchen to stir up the batter for the Christmas cake and puddings. All the stoning of raisins, cleaning of currants, cutting up citron and lemon peel and in memory we still smell the delicious fragrance. I bet the smaller ones piled their spoons to scrape out what was left in the mixing bowl after the puddings and cake were safely in their tins ready for the oven.

Anticipation is often better than reality—and half the fun of Christmas is getting things ready. So why not start early and get every drop of enjoyment we can from the glad season—for once Christmas is over, we lose the magic of that name, Christmas.

And here I am writing about Christmas on Thanksgiving Day. for I started this last week but did not finish it. I want to say that I have recalled another line of that old nursery rhyme that evaded me: "When Good King Arthur ruled the land, he was a goodly king". And there I am stuck. But, who knows! My subconscious mind may again keep on working till another maybe still another line comes back to me. I hope so—for somehow it leaves you so unsatisfied not to be able to recall things you once knew so well.

So many Christmas "goodies" come to mind and now the war is over, let us hope they all come back again for us. Do you remember the veldt bla: flane:
that accompanied what we used to call the "snap dragon"? Or did you have that old custom in your family? You pour brandy over table raisins, those big, fat, meaty raisins we see only at Christmas for some reason, and the brandy burns with a lovely blue flame and everybody
"grabs" for the raisins till they are all gone. You have to be quick about it. That old custom may never come back but there

By GEO. HASKETT, JR.
Canadian Hoffman are the Newmarket Industrial League softball champions. The Pressmen captured the crown with a well earned 19-9 victory over "Shorty" Turan's Davis Leather club. It was the Hoffman's third straight triumph in the league finals.

Hoffman's hopped into a four-run lead in the initial frame and were never threatened from there in as they went on to pile up 19 runs. The Tanners fought back but were only good for 9 counts.

The champions, Canadian Hoffman: M. Walsh, B. VanZant, H. VanZant, C. Codlin, S. Parks, E. Nullmeyer, G. Rose, G. Blight, W. Hutchison.

The Newmarket boys will play at the high school Tuesday and Thursday nights. Don Brown, Grant Blight, Larry Cotton and Francis McHale are getting things going.

Plenty Of Talent Noted For Hoffman's Hockey Club

By GEO. HASKETT, JR.

Once again hockey moves into the forefront. Newmarket looks headed for a big season in the O.H.A. intermediate B scramble. Monday evening the 1948 edition of hockey hopefuls hit the ice lanes at Barrie arena for their first practice session.

This season's intermediate club will be sponsored by the Canadian Hoffman Machinery Company. D. Kuhns, general manager of the Canadian plant of the Hoffman Company, will head the executive of the club. Doug Campbell, plant superintendent at the Newmarket plant, and office manager Frank Johnston also hold down executive posts. Father T. J. McCabe, who coached the Hoffman crew last winter, will once again hold the coaching reins with Johnny Campbell his chief assistant. Jack "Ceegars" McDonald will handle the managerial duties. Johnny Hines will head up the transportation committee.

Twenty hopefuls were on deck for the initial practice, with plenty of talent for every post on the line-up. Coach Father T. J. McCabe had three net minders on hand ready for duty, Frankie Carr, Freddie Dillman and Murray Allen. At the blue-line seeking a defense berth were Gord Bone, Cliff Gunn, Joe Magani and Harold Tunstead. Up front on the prowl for action at the mid-ice station were Harv Gibney, "Murph" Jelley, Stan Gibbons and Bill Johnston. Patrolling the right boards, coach Father McCabe will have choice of Ken Broughton, Geo. Stark, Don Smith and Bob Smith and at left wing Harry Caradonna, Jack Davis, Normie Legge, "Jing" Groves and Johnny Crewson were strutting their wares. Also expected out for future look see will be Joe "Dynamite" Peat, Myles MacInnis, "Mutt" Collings and Tony Wolf.

In the absence of coach Father McCabe, who at the moment is laid up with a knee injury, Johnny Campbell and "Ceegars" McDonald took over, splitting the players into two squads. Johnny Crewson topped the goal-getters in the initial scrimmage with three markers. "Jing" Groves, Cliff Gunn, Normie Legge and Bill Johnston also cashed in with goals. All the tired hopefuls reported a good practice session.

All in all, prospects look bright indeed for one of the best intermediate teams to represent the canal town in years. There is plenty of talent on hand that will bear close scrutiny before the final choices are made. It is expected the club will be working out weekly at the Barrie arena with several exhibition games at Barrie in the offing after the club rounds into shape.

BOYS' GROUPS JOIN FOR SPORTS BANQUET

Newmarket—It was a big night Friday at Trinity United church when a boys' banquet was held and well worth all the time and energy put into it. To look into the faces of our 100 happy Scouts, Trail Rangers, Cubs and Explorers was all the reward their leaders could ask. With ham, beans, weiners, rolls, pie (one boy admitted he had five pieces), eskimo pies, bananas, Macintosh apples and chocolate milk tucked under their belts, they nearly raised the roof of Trinity United church Sunday-school room as they gave three cheers and a tiger for their leaders.

Credit for the success of their first co-operative effort in sport between all of the boys' groups in Newmarket must be given to their leaders, Alfred Peel, Howard Hugo, Harry Nellis, Charles Wass and Bert Budd. To them also goes the credit for deciding to have the banquet. The presence of one woman, Mrs. H. Nellis, at the banquet added a motherly touch. What pleased the boys and leaders most of all was that there was no dish and pan washing at the close.

This banquet was not a flash in the pan affair but was part of an all-year program. With weekly meetings during fall, winter and spring, ball games and camps in the summer and a wind-up banquet, efforts at character building and prevention of juvenile delinquency are worth the support of all the citizens of Newmarket. The banquet was made possible by two of the local factories and Rev. H. Cotton.

ACTIVITIES RESUMED BY BADMINTON CLUB

The Newmarket badminton club has resumed activities at the high school each Monday and Wednesday evenings. Those who are interested in joining the club are invited to be on hand next Monday night when the executive and committees will be elected for the 1947-48 season. Bring your racket, the shuttlecocks will be provided by the club.

The club expects to hold a greater number of inter-club tournaments this year with Richmond Hill, Aurora and other interested towns. Experience is not necessary to enjoy badminton, so try your hand.

Seek Puck Prospects For Aurora Lions Teams

Leonard Simmons, chairman of the Aurora Lions sports committee, has issued a clarion call for all district and Aurora boys who want to play either junior or juvenile hockey with Aurora this winter. A meeting will be held in the old town hall, Aurora, at 7:30 p.m., on Monday, Oct. 27, and Mr. Simmons and his assistants will welcome one and all. Hockey practices will shortly be held at Barrie arena by the Aurora club who expect to have strong contenders in both the junior "C" O.H.A. and the O.M.I.A. juvenile "B" series.

The town girls' league which bowls every Monday night at Smith's alleys uses a sophisticated kind of nomenclature for its six teams. The teams are the Rinkydinks, the Dreamers, the Krak-Pots, the Lucky Strikes and the champs. The Dreamers and the Lucky Strikes each took 4 points this week. There will be a schedule ready for next week. Phil Osborne of the Dreamers was in top form on Monday night with a score of 238, 232, and 248 for a total of 718. Hester Clark totaled 544 with a 191 high single. Ada Rose made 513 with a 239 high single. Apologies for calling this group a new league. Apparently they have been bowling together for five or six years.

In the Mount Albert League the five highest teams in the present standing are the Tigers with 19. Excelsiors 17, Cubs 14, Beavers 14, and the Cardinals with 14. High averages for the ladies in singles this week were B. Comer 139, I. Campbell 137, and V. Oldham 136. High three with handicap, Reta Parks 286. High single flat, Reta Parks 286. High single with handicap, Reta Parks 286. High single averages in the mens' group were F. Dampf 196, R. Roberts 180, J. Dampf 179, High three flat, F. Dampf 703. High three with handicap, F. Dampf 743. High single flat, F. Dampf 316. High single with handicap, F. Dampf 331.

At the Bowlaway the Davis Men's league are making some nice steady scores. B. Pettit took 637, R. Chant 631, D. Forhan 616, and J. Atwell 616.

The other town girls got started at Smith's alleys last Thursday night but we have no reports on their scoring. We shall find out more about their activities next week.

We would like to make a humble request that the various leagues leave reports of their scoring and activities at the alleys so we can keep pace with all the bowling leagues and if you want to chat about it, give us a ring at 780.

NEWS OF LEGION

H. Sanderson and A. Pratt were delegates at a district meeting held at Orangeville on Sunday. They also acted as the color bearers.

The opening dance of the season, which was held at the high school under the sponsorship of the Newmarket branch, proved a huge success. A large crowd was present. Plans are being considered for the holding of a monthly dance this coming winter if it is possible to obtain the high school auditorium.

Poppy Day arrangements have been completed and Mrs. Fred Cass has consented to organize the taggers for the tag day which will be held on Saturday, Nov. 8.

On Wednesday, Oct. 15, the regular zone E meeting was held in the Newmarket Legion club rooms. H. A. Phelphe, zone commander, presided. Delegates from six branches attended the meeting and the newly elected third vice-president, T. A. M. Hulse, was also present.

The possibilities of the formation of a zone band were discussed by Mr. Hulse and Wm. Andrews, guest of the evening, and a resolution was drawn up which will be presented to each branch in the near future.

The regular monthly social evening promises to be something out of the ordinary. Don't miss it at 8 o'clock, Oct. 24. Remember, you may also invite a friend and his lady.

The regular monthly meeting will be held on Monday, Oct. 27, at 8 o'clock. All interested in transportation to the club rooms are to meet at the town hall between 7:30 and 7:45. This is an important meeting so a full attendance is requested.
